POLICY & PRACTICE VISITING ASSOCIATES PROGRAM

VISIT PULTE.ND.EDU/VAP FOR MORE INFO

The Pulte Institute for Global Development seeks policy and practice experts on today's most compelling global issues for its Visiting Associates Program.

Visiting Associates may spend 2 to 8 weeks on campus or participate in a variable-length hybrid residency, which includes a short campus visit.

Visiting Associates write evidence-based, strategic publications to positively influence global development policy and practice, including:

- A paper presenting key evidence from past work and clear policy recommendations.
- A brief, co-authored with a member of the Pulte Institute, presenting primary findings and policy recommendations of a more extensive report.
- A blog post summarizing key findings and recommendations.

ACTIVELY RECRUITING APPLICANTS WITH EXPERTISE IN THE FOLLOWING AREAS

Water Security & Energy Transition

Global Health

Migration & Force Displacement

Global Education

Poverty & Inequality

Development Effectiveness & Local Capacity Building

Social Entrepreneurship

Through the Pulte Institute, I connected with academic researchers and scholars who provided insight and ideas for my work. The affiliation also provided a unique platform to write an evidence-based paper that included specific recommendations designed to positively affect policy decisions.
